

STEMillions+

Stemettes in their millions - STEM related activities, in school based clubs, providing STEM role models and building a network of girls, women and young people in STEM.

Whatever your experience of filming, we want the girls to hear from you! This brief guide will tell you exactly what to include in your Stemillions video.

Stemillions is all about young people being exposed to STEM women just like you. Your introductory video will feature in the Stemillions meal plan (activity pack) which are sent to the clubs once a week. The meal plans are made up of these career information videos and a choice of related STEM based activities.

Option 1: Draw My Life.

For this, all you'll need is some plain paper/ a whiteboard and some marker pens. Examples are available on this Youtube Channel and the concept also has a Wikipedia page. You don't need to be an artist to do this option, it's just a bit of fun!

Option 2: Stemillions Tag.

Stemillions related questions. This is the easiest option. Stemettes cofounders Anne-Marie & Jacquelyn did a 'Friendship Tag here, this is someone else's 'Career Tag'. You can also checkout Kierann Shah's Stemillion Tag.

Submission

So you have your 3-minute film and it is ready to submit. Congratulations! Send it over to the Stemettes HQ at inbox@stemillions.club where we will edit and polish it up.

Thank you for being part of Stemillions!
